BOY SCOUT KILLED AND THREE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Youth Drives Car Into Group of Toronto Children on Way to Corn Roast—Driver Arrested on Charge of Manslaughter—Failed to See Party in Darkness

TORONTO, Sept. 13 (P).—One Boy Scout was killed, another critically injured and two more suffered minor injuries tonight when a fellow Boy Scout is alleged to have driven his car into a group of Scouts walking along the highway towards Armour Heights, where they intended to hold a corn roast.

Arthur Butterworth, seventeen, died in hospital shortly after admission. Little hope was held out for the recovery of Duncan McSparran, who suffered a fractured skull.

Murray Gairbraith, seventeen, alleged driver of the car, who was on his way to the same corn roast, was arrested by police on a charge of manslaughter. Police said he claimed to have failed to see the group because of darkness. The car skidded on the pavement when he tried to avoid them, he said.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL
Arthur Perrier, sixteen, and Peter Young, seventeen, were taken to hospital with minor injuries. About thirty boys and girls were walking north on Avenue Road when the car is reported to have struck the rear of the group. Those not hurt quickly utilized their knowledge of first aid treatments in aiding the others and in summoning medical aid.

HEADS WEST ON SPEAKING TOUR

Premier Bennett to Open Platform Campaign at Regina on Monday

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (P).—Prime Minister Bennett left tonight for Regina where he will open his platform campaign next Monday, and continue on a tour that will take him to Victoria and back to the Maritime Provinces. Sir George Perley, minister without portfolio, and ranking member of the Privy Council, will be acting Prime Minister during the month Mr. Bennett will spend on his general election campaign. Cabinet Council met late this afternoon but there were no official announcements. Only a bare quorum was present because of the absence of many ministers who are conducting their election campaigns or assisting others in various parts of the Dominion.

STOPPING IN TORONTO
Mr. Bennett will spend tomorrow in Toronto and leave for the tomorrow evening for Regina. He will spend two or three days in Calgary and will also address meetings in Vancouver and Victoria. The return journey will be made without stop, possibly by air through the United States in order that the Prime Minister may bid farewell to the Governor-General on the latter's departure for home, September 28, after which Mr. Bennett will speak in Ontario, Quebec, and the Maritime Provinces, and conclude the campaign in Western Canada.

QUINTUPLETS TO APPEAR IN FILM

Hollywood Studio Says Camera to Be Sent by Plane to Ontario Home of Babies

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 13 (P).—Executives at Paramount Studios said tonight negotiations to put the Dionne quintuplets in the movies "are practically complete." They are so near to a successful conclusion, it was stated, that two complete camera crews have been assembled and are ready to fly to Canada to begin work. The famous sisters have been sought for a sequence in the Harold Lloyd comedy, "The Milky Way," a story of a milkman. Steps to secure permission from the Ontario Government for their film appearance began more than a month ago.

Seven Killed in Airplane Crash

PANAMA CITY, Sept. 13 (P).—Six passengers and the American pilot of a commercial airplane were reported by natives killed tonight in a jungle crash near the town of Beluco. Government officials said it would require more than eight hours for men on horseback to reach the scene of the crash, and that the report would probably not be confirmed until early morning.

Conservatives Open Campaign Here in Enthusiastic Rally

D. B. Plunkett, Candidate, Outlines Policy—Is Given Fine Hearing

SENATOR GRIESBACH GIVES MAIN ADDRESS

Conservatives opened their campaign for the re-election of D. B. Plunkett, member of the late Parliament, at a largely-attended and most enthusiastic meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium last night. Mr. Plunkett was tendered a vociferous outburst of applause when he rose to speak, following the address of Senator the Hon. Major-General W. A. Griesbach, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., K.C., and R. E. Maitland, K.C. Whole-hearted support for the policies of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett was the keynote of the gathering.

Senator Griesbach, a notable figure in Canadian public life, and a most accomplished speaker, was introduced by Hugh Allan, president of the Victoria Conservative Association.

At the commencement of his address, the general found a ready answer to his first question. "What is the issue?" he asked. "The issue is the issue of the day," he replied.

LITTLE GIRL KILLED IN TRAP FOR ANIMALS
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 13 (P).—A trap for dogs and cats electrocuted an eight-year-old Sacramento girl tonight as she played near the backyard fish pool of a neighbor.

WOMAN KILLED BY CAR

Many City Projects Made Possible With Governmental Loan

Alderman T. W. Hawkins Will Give Report of $100,000 Negotiations to City Council—Ross Bay Seawall Scheme Considered

COMPLETION of repairs to the Ross Bay seawall; erection of a grandstand at the Macdonald Park; widening and straightening of the city's portion of Bowker Creek; a drainage project to further relieve the Haultain-Shebourne Street "flood" district, and several major projects now under consideration, will be made possible through the loan of $100,000 to the city from the Provincial Government, it was announced yesterday by Alderman T. W. Hawkins, who, with Mayor David Leeming, made application for the loan.

Alderman Hawkins stated last night that he had received confirmation that the application had been granted, and that he would give a full account of negotiations at a meeting of the City Council on Monday night.

WILL GIVE REPORT
The nature of the negotiations have been such that no report could be made to the council officially until steps had been taken, but in the absence of the mayor, Alderman Hawkins will explain what led to the application being made to the Government. It is expected that after hearing

FRANCE STANDS WITH BRITAIN IN UPHOLDING THE COVENANT OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Premier Laval Makes No Reservation of Position in Speech at Geneva, Swinging Powerful European Balance Against Mussolini's Plans—No Military Sanctions Contemplated

Italy Announces Intention To Go Ahead With Campaign

GENEVA, Sept. 13 (P).—France stood tonight with Great Britain in whole-hearted support of the League of Nations. The speech of Premier Laval before the League Assembly today, made it clear she was prepared to uphold the covenant.

"Our obligations are inscribed in the covenant. France will not evade those obligations," said Laval.

In British circles, the French Premier's speech was interpreted as a definite pledge that his Government would live up to its full obligations as a member of the League and that French policy in this regard was completely aligned with British policy.

NO LIMITATION
It was observed that Laval's speech contained no limitation or reservation of that position. As such, British quarters warmly welcomed the French declaration.

Thus, one of Italy's firmest friends sided with Britain in efforts to halt a threatened African war, which might bring about the collapse of the League. A powerful European balance swung against Premier Mussolini's military plans. "France is faithful to the covenant and cannot fail in its obligations," Laval declared. "The doctrine of collective security is still our law. To deny the pact would be to deny our ideal. Any harm to Geneva would be harm to our country itself."

FAITHFUL TO COVENANT
"France is faithful to the covenant and cannot fail it. The League was born from the suffering of men. It was built on ruins and was conceived to prevent the return of war. Our unreserved adherence to it is both enthusiastic and well considered. We place our hope in the co-operation of all peoples to realize our ideal of peace."

"France's policy is founded squarely on the League. All our agreements with our friends and allies pass today through Geneva or end there."

CLAIMS WORLD SPEED RECORD

Los Angeles Millionaire Timed at 352 Miles an Hour Over Set Course

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13 (P).—William R. Byart, secretary of the contest board of the National Aeronautics Association, announced tonight that a final calibration of camera films of the speed trials of Howard Hughes, millionaire film producer, has prompted the N.A.A. to ask that Hughes be officially credited with a new world speed record of 352.46 miles per hour for land airplanes.

Previously, N.A.A. officials stated the Fédération Aéronautique Internationale in Paris, France, would be asked to recognize a new record of 347 miles an hour. The present mark of 314.319 miles an hour is held by Raymond Deltorre, of France. Byart said the 352.46 represented Hughes' average on his two best north and south trials over the Irvine ranch near Santa Ana today in his $120,000 monoplane. Byart said Hughes' top speed was 355.38 miles an hour, and his slowest speed, 339.12 miles an hour.

British Columbia Lumber Industries Contribute Gains

Chief Basic Industry Making Steady Progress, With $50,000,000 as Anticipated Value of Total Products for the Year—B.C. Revenues Up

MEETING gains and losses with philosophical unconcern, and pursuing aggressive sales policies in home and world markets, British Columbia's lumber industry will give an excellent account of itself this year, it was forecast yesterday in provincial circles.

A gain of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 in the value of British Columbia lumber and timber products for the year is unofficially anticipated, if the performance of the first seven months be maintained until the end of the year. An increase of $5,000,000 this year would place British Columbia lumber and its products once again in the lead of the basic industries of the Province, with a total annual value of $50,000,000. This compares with $45,461,000, the value of the output from the industry last year, and would establish a steady advance from products worth $39,155,000 in 1933, and $35,157,000 in 1932. Favorable factors noted in Provincial circles include a gain of from 10 to 12 per cent in the official scale of saw logs for the first seven months; the total being 1,292,000,000 H. Stevens, leader of the Reconstruction Party.

CRANBROOK, Sept. 13 (P).—Hon. R. R. Bruce, Minister of Lands, was tonight chosen Liberal standard-bearer in Kootenay East. The former British Columbia Lieutenant-Governor will oppose Hon. H. H. Stevens, leader of the Reconstruction Party.

MOON TO BE AT BRIGHTEST

Never in Fifty Years Has It Shone So at Time of Harvest

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 13 (P).—The fullest and brightest "harvest moon" in fifty years was predicted today by N. D. Showalter, state superintendent of public instruction, whose experience with "harvest moons" started with his childhood days in Nebraska.

The reason for this brightest moon, he explained today, is because the moon will be both full and in perigee at the same time during the next two weeks, making it 20 to 25 per cent brighter than usual.

CLOSEST TO EARTH
The moon is in its perigee each month when it is closest to the earth, and in the September perigee it is closer than in any other month, he explained.

Doctor Showalter checked back fifty years, he said, without finding a month in which the moon had both been full and in its perigee. The moon will be the brightest in many years, but will remain that way for two weeks, instead of the normal one week, all caused by its closeness to the earth.

Government Retains Seat in Dumfries

EDINBURGH, Sept. 13 (P).—Although the majority was reduced, the National Government retained the Dumfries seat in the House of Commons in today's election.

Sir Henry Plides, National Liberal, was elected with 16,271 votes to 10,697 for John Downie, Labor, a majority of 5,574. The by-election was necessitated by the death of Dr. Joseph Hunter, National Liberal, who had a majority of 19,180 in a straight fight with Labor in the last general elections.

Expansion Plan For Exhibition

Establishment of Permanent Amusement Park, Airport, Mile-Long Race Track, and Great Diamond Jubilee Celebration, Are Among Schemes Proposed by T. W. Hawkins

EXPANSION of the Willows Exhibition plant with a view to ultimately establishing a permanent amusement park there; extension of the race track to a mile in length, and developing the centre-field as an airport; greater and better cattle and other livestock facilities; extension of the Main Building to provide more exhibition space, and laying of plans for a great diamond jubilee celebration of the fair next year are among the proposals that will be brought forward before the board of directors of the British Columbia Agricultural Association by Alderman T. W. Hawkins, chairman of the board of directors.

In his annual fair statement, Alderman T. W. Hawkins outlined what he had in mind to recommend to the directors for their consideration. He explained that he did not think the whole programme could be put through at once, but was confident that steps could be taken so that a good portion of the programme would be undertaken in time for the Diamond Jubilee celebration.

In line with the drive to be made for a big jubilee fair, it is expected that first consideration will be given to the installation of major permanent amusement park features that will form the nucleus for a large amusement park.

Also, in line with the jubilee fair, Alderman Hawkins hopes to be able to institute a programme of island-wide interest, so that there is the position of our country today?" A voice in the audience called "rotten." "Alright," replied the general, "let us start from that point. It gives me as good a start as any. But I want to say right here and now that the condition of the country might have been worse."

Launching into his address, the general marshalled a collection of figures to show the effect of five years of depression. Trade of the world, he said, had shrunk to 75 per cent of its former value in 1929, in terms of national currency; 50 per cent in terms of sterling and to 33 per cent in terms of gold. "That's a rotten condition. Shrinkage in trade brought about the inevitable—unemployment. The question that concerns us at the moment is, what has the Bennett Government done to deal with the situation?"

TRADE BALANCE

General Griesbach explained that when the Bennett Government took office in 1930 there was an adverse trade balance with the United States of $103,000,000. The problem then arose—how to convert that unfavorable trade balance or to materially decrease the deficit. How was it done? "We shipped goods to the United States. We took our favorable trade with Great Britain in order to extinguish it. Is it then remarkable that our dollar shrunk to 75 cents? I say the King Government, which was then in power, was responsible for that condition." (Applause.)

Continuing with the trade balance and the United States market, the general asserted the Liberals were "suffering from a peculiar complex. Mr. King says we must not offend that country. He claims he can expand by the manipulation of tariffs. From 1921 to 1930, Mr. King did nothing in relation to the United States. He allowed the adverse trade balance to increase, and we find that our friends to the South increased their tariffs on three distinct occasions against our goods. The tariff on cattle alone was increased to 3 cents a pound. It killed the cattle export trade of Canada. The tariff on wheat was increased to 42 cents a bushel. How much did they affect the Prairie provinces directly and the people of this province indirectly?"

THE LIBERAL POLICY

"Mr. King's policy, continued the speaker, is not to offend the United States. It has always been his policy. The Conservative Party, on the other hand, knows its United States and we tariffed against them. The Bennett Government is now negotiating a new treaty, and it will be put into effect. The Liberal Government, if in power, will reduce tariffs regardless of results."

The general declared the industrial interests of the United States know they can make a better bargain with the Liberal Government in office than they will with Mr. Bennett.

MARKET CONDITIONS

Two and a half months ago eggs were selling at two and a half cents a pound. Today, he said, they were selling at nine cents a pound. In 1931 Canada shipped 160,000,000 square feet of lumber to the United Kingdom and in 1934 the export had risen to 630,000,000 square feet, as a direct result of the Ottawa agreement. In 1931, the general continued, Canada supplied to the United Kingdom only 53 per cent of the imported consumption. In 1934 it had increased to 90 per cent. The United States, he said, only supplied 10 per cent of today's export lumber to the Mother Country. "I fully believe the British Empire can be made self-supporting if we allow for give and take and these trade agreements are doing more to further the conception of a united Empire. Our trade treaties with other nations have done more to clear the channels of trade than any other instrument," the general stated.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION

General Griesbach reviewed some of the legislation passed at the last session of the Canadian Parliament. These, he said, were passed to put into effect the reforms announced by Premier Bennett in his January addresses and to implement the report of the Price Spreads Commission. There were twenty acts in all. The general declared the Bennett administration had put upon the statutes more humanitarian legislation at the last session than ever before in history.

Continuing the speaker declared: "I honestly believe that Mr. King says that because he knows that any form of dictatorship is repugnant to the people of Canada. I almost think he is saying it to influence the electors."

CANADA AND WAR

General Griesbach mentioned the question of Canada and the next war. "At the moment Mr. King appears to be very much concerned about Canada and the next war. He is demanding a plebiscite so the people of Canada can say if they want to go to war or not. A little while ago he would have been satisfied to have Parliament settle the question. Can you think of anything more cumbersome than a plebiscite on a question of this kind. I strongly suspect that Mr. King is just a little bit gun shy."

THE EX-SERVICE MAN

Concerning the ex-service men in Canada, General Griesbach stated there was an attempt being made to disorganize the work done by the Bennett Government. "No party," he declared, "has the right to seek to exploit the ex-service men of this country. They are the wards of all the people of Canada." The general gave figures to show the increases in pensions paid to ex-service men by the Bennett Administration over those given by the King Government.

The general, in his concluding remarks, charged that the C.C.F. movement was "Socialism absolute."

A Bird's-Eye View of Livestock Parade at Fair

This picture of the big livestock parade, held Wednesday afternoon at the Willows Fair, was taken from the top of the grandstand, and not only gives some conception of the length of the parade, but also an idea of the vast crowd that was at the exhibition. The race track railing in the foreground and the grandstand in the background are visible. The livestock shown in the picture represents about half the length of the procession.

and said the only difference in the doctrine of the Socialists and Communists was that the former would change conditions by the ballot and the latter by force.

He closed his address with the statement: "The ship of state has been kept on an even keel through the depression years. It is for you to think what might have occurred in our country had there been any other man but Mr. Bennett at the helm."

D. B. PLUNKETT

"We hear much of 'planned economy' and 'social ownership,' as if all the experience and progress of the past must be thrown away," said Mr. Plunkett, acknowledging a fine reception. "If there is any doubt at all as to what the C.C.F. means by these terms, let me give you the words of Rev. J. S. Woodsworth, in Parliament: 'By social ownership we mean the socialization, Dominion, provincial and municipal, of transportation, communications, electric power and all other industries and services.'"

"Well, if you take over these services in Canada, what compensation are you going to pay the bondholders and the stockholders who have been paying taxes in the country for years? Government is not something to be talked, thought, and dreamt about; but a severely complicated affair whose every act must be translated by statute, down into some form of taxation on the people."

"Nor do I hear the Liberals say much of what they would do if returned to power. Premier Hepburn, here the other night, told fourteen or fifteen funny stories, some very aged, but he did not say what the Liberals would do. He forgot to tell you that out of Ontario's debt of some $600,000,000, half has been the hydro enterprise, and that is paying its way. He had little to say of the contracts of the commission voided by himself, and in respect of which I received many protests from stockholders in this city."

"For all protestations, despite all lack of appreciation by the Liberals for the present Government, the four Western Premiers have worn a trail to the door of Ottawa, asking for money, seeking loans year after year, and not once have they been refused. You may criticize your Government, your men in public life, but if your institutions are sound, stand by them. We, as Canadians, can well be proud of our institutions," Mr. Plunkett concluded.

R. L. MAITLAND, K.C.

"In 1928, when we were all paper millionaires, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King sat as a fairy godfather, giving all of this property to the people of Canada. Nothing was done by him about credit. Nothing was done to stop the mad gambling of the people; and it was Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett who, in Parliament, warned the people that the time was coming when the bill would have to be paid," Mr. Maitland said, in opening.

"I was in public life in 1929 when the avalanche came. We saw revenue dropping overnight; bankruptcy coming fast; and the insistent call on Governments to do something. By 1930 all Western Provinces were at grips with unemployment, and from Atlantic to Pacific, statesmen were faced with the result of a world condition Mr. Bennett had fostered."

HIS CONTRIBUTION

"What did Mr. King say when the Western Provinces urgently asked for help with their pressing problems? He said that unemployment was 'not very serious'; and he picked out Conservative Governments and said he would not give them a five-cent piece. It was Mr. Bennett who called a special session of Parliament, and voted $20,000,000 for unemployment relief, the largest single sum ever voted up to that time."

"Since that day every Premier in Canada has joined the march on Ottawa. Some were fast, but others were faster. Mr. Aberhart was the fastest of all. Within twenty-four minutes of his election he was on the long-distance telephone asking for a Federal loan of $18,000,000. Mr. Maitland continued, to applause. "But," he added, "people

Rain Again Gives Fair Setback in Attendance Total

THAT there are many loyal supporters of the Willows Fair was illustrated by the attendance figures yesterday, which disclosed that 1,642 persons paid admission to the exhibition despite the almost incessant downpour of rain.

This compared with the figure for the same day last year shows a decrease of 2,735 paid admissions for the day, thus leaving the fair still 1,435 paid admissions ahead of those for the same period last year. However, unless the weather clears today, it is doubtful whether the fair can maintain a lead.

EMPIRE ACCORD

The reverse, he continued, had been the case. One-quarter of the world had placed itself in step, as British Columbia exporters knew with increasing gratitude in the following years. In lumber, fruit, fish, and many other commodities, the Empire trade packs had been the salvation of British Columbia trade, since.

A central bank for Canada had been an issue for a generation, but Mr. Bennett had been the first with courage to act on the plan. The bank had 10,000 shareholders, but not private control. While 13,000 banks and thousands of other corporations had gone down in the United States, Canadian institutions had stood firm, an example to the world. The Government had acted on old age pensions, while their predecessors in office had talked, but had done little. It was the same with unemployment insurance, wage laws, and needed measure of relief to the farmer. The legislation was on the statute books.

STATESMANSHIP

In a mechanical way, machinery replacing men, readjustments had to come. Steadily and surely, Mr. Bennett had met these conditions, and guided Canada safely through the worst economic storm in its history. Victoria, which returned Sir John A. Macdonald to Parliament on one occasion, could appreciate real statesmanship, and would support men that kept their feet on the ground. Mr. Maitland said, to sustained applause.

Presiding over a capacity audience, Hugh Allan introduced the speaker, being supported on the platform by R. F. Goss, George Herbert Anson, M.P., and officials of the Victoria Conservative Association. The proceedings were broadcast.

board feet, compared with 1,091,000,000 board feet between January and July a year ago. At the end of July, piling and poles had climbed to 3,181,000 feet, as against 2,210,000 feet in 1934; ties to 990,000 pieces, compared with 688,000; with cordwood approximately the same at 83,000 cords.

Coupled with some lumber price improvement, British Columbia experienced a better market for shingles in the earlier part of the year; saw a reopening of Atlantic Coast sales to a marked extent, and found Ontario business better than for some time past. In addition, the volume of lumber shipped to British destinations, chiefly Great Britain, has been well maintained. Unfavorable factors were interference with the normal movement of exports to Japan, both in pulp and lumber, but not affecting newsprint; slow sales on the Prairies, and continued loss of a very large internal market once open on this continent.

URGES STUDY OF AFFAIRS

Rev. E. J. Springett Says Lack of Belief in God Caused Problems

Present world conditions should be studied by all, Rev. E. J. Springett, Dominion commissioner of the British-Israel World Federation (Canada) Inc., told an audience of 500 persons at the City Temple last evening. His subject was "The Greatest Factor in the World Situation."

"Although I urge you to familiarize yourselves with what is going on, do not take for granted that editorial writers and authors of magazine articles are always well-informed on what they write," said Mr. Springett.

He believed that present conditions should not surprise so many persons for they were all predicted by the Bible. All British-Israel predictions were based upon its contents.

EXPLAINS COLLAPSE

"We continually say we believe in God after 1,900 years of Christianity," continued the speaker, "but our world problems and the collapse of many of our institutions are an indication that we believed God existed, but did not believe in Him. If we could realize we were put on earth to serve, we should be humble in carrying out God's will."

"We are charged with setting up a new state in the near future, where theocracy will replace democracy. Theocracy means the rule of God. We should all be devoutly thankful that, in King George, we have a monarch who is a Christian gentleman and makes the Bible his constant guide," he stated.

Mr. Springett declared that a perfect world and a perfect social system under which everybody would be taken care of were God's will. Nobody knew anything about the hereafter, although they seemed to think that God was only concerned with their after life.

"We cannot live our lives in the full unbelief we are in contact with God," he asserted. "Affairs on earth must be dealt with according to God's will; natural resources must be administered according to laws He laid down."

SHOULD REPENT

"From every pulpit and platform throughout the world should issue forth the cry: 'Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand,' Mr. Springett maintained.

He proclaimed that Cello-Saxons all over the world were the Israel of God and were charged with the setting up of a new system. It was unfortunate that sheer dire physical necessity was necessary to bring people to their knees to make them understand that they could not rule by themselves.

"Study the Bible sincerely if you wish to help ameliorate world conditions," urged Mr. Springett. "The time will arrive when a still, small voice will say: 'Give an account of thy stewardship, for the day will come when thou shalt no longer be steward,'" he concluded.

BRITISH-ISRAEL

The following meetings are scheduled to take place in Victoria and district next week: All will start at 8 o'clock.

Monday—Middletown Local, Campbell Building.

Monday—Sooke branch, Sooke.

Tuesday—Victoria and District Association, Foresters' Hall; speaker, A. E. Bell-Irving.

Wednesday—Prospect Lake, home of Miss Hewitt; speaker, Freeman Brown.

Lives of great men often remind us. At their pages over we turn. That we're apt to leave behind us. Letters that we ought to burn.

Many British Columbia birds will undoubtedly be shown for display purposes at the World's Poultry Congress to be held from July 23 to August 2, next year, in Berlin, Germany. F. C. Elford, Dominion poultry husbandman, announced last night at the Empress Hotel, while highly praising local stock.

In past congresses, British Columbia has always been well represented, and its birds have stood out. Mr. Elford added that the last congress was held in 1933 at Rome, and was opened by Mussolini. There, birds from this province again showed up well, and after the show, those birds which were not given away, were sold for high prices. It was stated.

EXPORTING STOCK

These congress exhibitions have resulted in tremendous exportation from Canada of high-bred stock, with "British-Columbia" having more than its share," the official pointed out.

A large number of delegates and visitors from Canada are expected to visit Berlin. A tour—being planned which will leave Montreal on July 10 and return on August 21. Hitler will open the poultry congress, which will terminate just as the Olympic Games commence in the German capital.

On his first trip to British Columbia, R. T. Hooper, of Montreal, C.P.R. auditor of miscellaneous accounts, is delighted with Victoria, despite the rain which welcomed him here. He is registered at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Hooper and their daughter, Miss Norah Hooper.

R. J. O'Leary, member of the C.P.R. press bureau at Montreal, is also registered at the Empress Hotel.

CHALLENGE TO YOUTH EXISTS

King Gordon, C.C.F. Candidate, Discusses Problems Of Young People

"Canada today needs leaders who are prepared to think in terms of today, and in the terms of today's resources," declared Professor King Gordon, C.C.F. candidate in the Victoria Federal riding, at a meeting held last night in the Sir James Douglas School auditorium.

His entire address was based on the problems facing the young people of Canada, and how best to meet them. The C.C.F., he said, offered the youth of this Dominion a challenge, an opportunity to participate in a great adventure, that of changing the present order into a new society where co-operation would be the keynote.

The crash of 1929 had slammed the door in the faces of young men and women. The young people, he asserted, faced a blank future. There was no chance for advancement, and no beckoning of the frontier.

The time had arrived, he declared, for the young people to take a part in the Government of the country. During the Great War the young people had responded to the challenge of the Empire to muster around the flag in the great war for peace. What greater challenge could be found than the one which existed today, that of building the country on a sane co-operative basis, he asserted.

Prof. Gordon quoted Nicholas Murray Butler's famous compilation of figures on the war, namely four hundred billion dollars, and showed what could have been done had this money been spent on building homes, developing resources, establishing schools, hospitals, libraries and other institutions.

He asked his audience to imagine the results that could be accomplished if the same energies and money were spent on making life a completely different thing.

Prof. Gordon then asked what was holding the cause back, and answered by claiming it was the vested interests. He said that while one must respect the equity of corporations, one also should respect the equity of the worker; the equity of the young men and women who are denied a future; "but use a sense of justice and balance when considering the claims of human rights against wealth."

Lives of great men often remind us. At their pages over we turn. That we're apt to leave behind us. Letters that we ought to burn.

Urge Early Action In Adjusting Plan Of Municipal Taxes

James Forman Tells Real Estate Board That Only on the North American Continent Do Anglo-Saxon Communities Have Tax Sales

THE opening luncheon of the Victoria Real Estate Board for the Fall and Winter months, which took place yesterday, was well attended. The speaker was James Forman, who dealt with the recent meeting of municipal workers, real estate representatives and others deeply interested in municipal taxation matters, which was held in Vancouver, with Mayor Leeming and Mr. Forman appearing as representatives for Victoria.

Mr. Forman gave a necessarily terse account of the brief review of the proceedings and Old Land might well be adopted. The conclusions reached by those present at the conference were that the changes that were over-looked in connection with taxation problems, Mr. Forman said, it was materially from what it was elsewhere within Anglo-Saxon communities throughout the world. Only in the Old Country, tax sales were unknown. The general opinion of the Vancouver gathering was that it was high time for a change in the system.

completing the ends sought. They had the statement of the Minister of Municipalities in the British Columbia Government that nothing could be expected in this respect as suggested at this time.

BASIS OF TAXATION
The result of the conference held in Vancouver was that there should be recommended that land with the improvements exempted be made the basis of taxation. This would be the only tax on unoccupied vacant land. Such a tax should not exceed 15 mills in the taxing of land and improvements, the rate should be based preferably on the rental value of the combined land and buildings. Tax sales should be applied only in the case of unimproved property.

When the committee had reported and the gathering got down to making recommendations for action, it was decided that the taxation on real estate that was now confiscatory, be reduced by at least 50 per cent. At the same time there should be taken over by the Provincial authorities many of the services that now were made a charge upon the municipalities. These would include administration of justice, relief, unemployment charges, etc.

OCCUPIER RESPONSIBLE
Mr. Forman pointed out that in the Old Country it was shown that the occupier of property was made responsible for the payment of the taxes. The owner was regarded as the occupier, where the property was vacant.

Real property, it was held, should be relieved of the tax which was not related to property.

The income tax, according to the ability to pay, was regarded as the most equitable tax.

In view of the heavy debts now carried, probably the way out would be best reached by some conversion of loans for the Dominion, the provinces and the municipalities, which would adjust the total burden of debt.

Mr. Forman was thanked for representing the Victoria Real Estate Board at the Vancouver gathering and for his explanation of what was done.

The thanks of the board were also ordered to be conveyed to Mayor Leeming for his efficient services in connection with the calling of the conference in Vancouver.

To Meet Leaders
Of Boys' Groups
Here on Sunday

Rev. F. R. McLean, Vancouver secretary of the Provincial Religious Education Council, Thursday night extended an open invitation to all leaders of boys' groups to attend a meeting in the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday at 4 p.m.

Mr. McLean met members of the Y.M.C.A. boys' work committee, and boys' work board leaders of boys' classes, and Sunday school teachers to discuss a programme for this year's Winter season. The meeting was so enthusiastic that a second session was arranged for Sunday.

Later the Y.M.C.A. boys' work committee held its inaugural Winter season meeting. Vivian Shoemaker, boys' work secretary, presented an account of all Summer activities. H. L. Campbell was chosen chairman of a committee to arrange for the annual tag day. Other routine business was discussed.

Two lawyers who have just applied for membership in the Bar Diego Bar Association are named Holler and Bellows.

URGES BETTER CATTLE BARN FOR WILLOWS

Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie Emphasizes Need for Better Livestock Facilities

REMOVAL OF DUTY ALSO ADVOCATED

Need for a new cattle building, with all the necessary facilities for the handling of stock, including a judging ring, was emphasized by Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie in his address before the livestock breeders at the annual luncheon given the stockmen by the B.C. Agricultural Association at the Willows Fair yesterday.

It is becoming ever more apparent that larger and better livestock facilities are needed at the fair, Dr. Tolmie stated. Better housing and watering facilities were required, he said, while more room should be provided for the attendants of the stock and a judging ring provided right in the cattle barns so that the stock need not be transferred to another building for judging.

Dr. Tolmie paid tribute to the high quality of stock in the show, and expressed his gratification over the splendid livestock parade on Wednesday.

DISCUSSES DUTY
Fairs did much to encourage the breeding of better stock, and too much could not be said of their value in this respect. He contended that governmental action was necessary to wipe out the duty against Canadian stock entering the United States, so that breeders here could find a market for their 250,000 head of surplus stock.

Canada, he asserted, was the best customer of the United States, and he believed that if this point was brought home to those in Washington, some move might be made to reduce the duty, which at present prohibits the exportation of Canadian stock to the United States.

A. E. McLaurin, secretary of the Canadian Council of Boys' and Girls' Clubs throughout Canada, spoke of the beneficial work that the fairs were doing for the boys and girls, and explained that his organization had a membership of 28,000 boys and girls, which in itself evidenced the great interest that Victoria has changed considerably since the Fall of 1893, when Rev. G. Clement King, D.D., came as a young Church of England minister to assist Bishop Cridge in his duties here.

Dr. Clement King still likes the city, however, and still finds the people friendly. At the Dominion Hotel, Thursday, he said he made a point of coming here every September from his home in Santa Cruz. He has many friends here, and he hopes they will visit him at the hotel.

In 1898, Dr. Clement King and his wife left Victoria and went to Seattle. For many years he served in Episcopal churches up and down the Coast. He has long since been retired, but at the age of eighty he is still active and bright, and, as he states, feels like a man twenty years his junior.

Dr. Clement King attributes his splendid health to his knowledge of diet. He eats no meat, but enjoys leafy vegetables and fruit for his meals. Tea and coffee also are off his menu.

He has no complaints; goes and comes when he pleases, and does it alone. He has made up his mind to live to be 105, and there is very reason to believe he will do it.

Amendments to Regulations Are Sought by Union

Amendments to existing regulations governing scale of wages and hours of work for drivers of trucks that weigh more than 2,000 pounds, will be sought from the Provincial Government, it was stated following a meeting of the Truck Drivers' and Helpers' Union on Thursday night.

A committee reported that Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor, had requested the drivers to submit their proposals, and they will be placed before the Industrial Relations Board.

A forty-eight-hour week, instead of a regular daily schedule, 60 cents per hour and time and a half for overtime for awampers, will be sought by the union men, it was stated.

Arthritis Conquered by Famous Herbal Remedy

DON'T GIVE UP HOPE

PROMINENT VANCOUVER LADY WAS HELPLESS WITH RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS

Dear Sir:—Seven years ago I contracted Rheumatoid Arthritis. I tried every treatment and remedy which I thought would help. My doctors did everything possible for me, but finally told me there was no hope. I grew worse and my system got so run down I only weighed 90 pounds.

The pain in my hands and feet in fact all over my body, got so bad that I became helpless. Friends advised me to try Harris' Wondro, and after the first two bottles I was able to stand on my feet. Since then I have improved steadily, gaining in health and strength until now I do all my own housework and even go shopping. It was a godsend for me, for after years of suffering I can now write and even walk the piano, and have gained 30 pounds in weight. I cannot speak too highly of Harris' Wondro and when it has done for me, and can recommend it to anyone suffering as I did.—Yours very truly,

MRS. A. MCKENZIE,
2551 West 10th Avenue, Vancouver, B.C.

NEW WESTMINSTER MAN OUT OF BED AND BACK TO WORK AFTER TAKING HARRIS' WONDRO

Dear Sir:—I was laid up about two years ago with what the doctor diagnosed as Arthritis. It was in both my knees and right ankle which confined me to bed for over four months. I tried Harris' Wondro on the advice of a friend, with the consent of my doctor, who, needless to say, was frankly sceptical, but I started to walk and was able to get up and about. I am now very healthy and satisfied. After taking four or five boxes of Harris' Wondro I am now off my bed and back to work, and have not lost a day since. The trouble seems to have disappeared.

I have recommended your remedy to several friends and they are finding it very beneficial. I am now taking it myself and shall have no hesitation in recommending it to anyone similarly afflicted. You may make use of this testimonial.

DISPLAYING FINE RUGS

David Spencer's Exhibit at Fair Features Canadian-Made Carpets

The Manufacturers' Building at the Willows Exhibition contains a splendid showing of Canadian-made rugs and carpets in the booth of David Spencer, Ltd. Striking the tremendous advance made by Canada's carpet industry—the three-panel exhibit proves why the Dominion now ranks carpet manufacture among her leading industries. The first portion of the stand is confined to a display of "Domestic Orientals." These are the Barzak, a Barrymore product, made by the Toronto Carpet Company, and the Hardahan, by the Harding Carpet Company. These rugs reproduce exactly the design and finish of the genuine Orientals, with permanence in color and beauty of authentic antique patterns. One particular piece here is a reproduction of a Chinese carpet, correct in design and color, coming off the Harding looms as late as August of this year. In this section, too, is a lovely old hand-knotted rug, made in a similar manner to the Donegal, with every knot hand-knotted.

WILTONS DISPLAYED

The fine Wiltons made in Canada form the second part of the exhibit, manufactured by the Guelph Carpet Company and the Toronto Carpet Company. Particular attention is called to the Faristan Wilton, shown in conventional and Oriental designs, and featuring a deep rich pile. Another line by the same maker is the Thibet Wilton.

The Kashan French Wilton is manufactured by the Toronto Carpet Company and ranks among the foremost of the Canadian makes.

The Persian, from the same factory, attracts much attention. The Broadloom carpets from the Guelph factory are shown in plain colors with heavy wool backs.

The third section is devoted to the Royal Princess rugs from the Empire Carpet Mills. These boudoir rugs of rare beauty are made of cotton Chenille, in ground colors of white, blue, green, or relieved with corner decorations of floral or modernistic motifs.

Growing interest in the boy and girl farm clubs conducted by the Federal Agricultural Department, and steady increase in membership from year to year, was reported here yesterday by A. E. MacLaurin, of Ottawa, secretary of the Canadian Council.

He is here in connection with the Willows Exhibition, after attending the Vancouver and Chilliwack fairs, where splendid results of the Government-fostered clubs were shown. From Victoria Mr. MacLaurin will go to Armstrong to attend the judging finals of teams, the winners to attend the Fair at Winter Fair, Toronto. Mr. MacLaurin is registered at the Empress Hotel.

During the last few days hundreds of interested visitors have flocked to the new premises of Dick's, popular drygoods and ready-to-wear store, now installed in the new location at 1324 Douglas Street. In order to give proper facilities for display of the large and varied stocks, the space formerly occupied by three stores has been acquired and the whole altered and modernized to form one of the most up-to-date stores in Victoria.

The main entrance is off Douglas Street, with a second door opening on Johnson. A deep display window greets the visitor as the Douglas Street doors are approached, and the modern design gives promise of artistic decoration which is amply fulfilled in the body of the store. The floor on the level with the street is devoted to drygoods, while a lower level, where dresses, millinery and lingerie are featured. A big mezzanine floor is comfortably fitted with lounges and dressing rooms.

A SALIENT FEATURE

The daylight illumination is a salient feature here, enabling the patron to match shades of material under the same conditions as they will appear on the street. Appointments and fixtures throughout are handsome and attractive.

A. W. Whittingham, proprietor of Dick's, is well known in the city and throughout the Island. His first venture in business dates back as far as 1914, when he opened an establishment in Oak Bay. In 1922 he opened a store in Nanaimo and this is acknowledged as the largest of his kind north of Duncan. Three years ago he opened a branch of the business here and the recent expansion speaks volumes for the quality and value offered.

A Familiar Sight on Streets of Victoria

The Wood-Pedlar and his unique conveyance have been familiar to Victorians for a number of years. The above photograph was taken by P. Fleming, of 2089 Oak Bay Avenue, and was awarded twelfth prize in the August Snapshot Contest conducted by The Daily Colonist.

debts under Liberal and Conservative regimes since Sir Wilfrid Laurier was re-elected. When Mackenzie King went into power in 1922, taxes were high and the balance of trade was against the nation, but between 1921 and 1930 the debt had been decreased by $250,000,000. When the new Government came into power, a new policy of high tariffs and high protection for Canadian industry was started up, with the result that trade immediately began to drop, and from $3,000,000,000 in 1922 fell to about $700,000,000 in a short time. At the same time, unemployment rose quickly from 115,000 to about 700,000, and today there were on direct relief 1,250,000, or one person in every ten in the Dominion.

Mrs. J. S. Akins, the forum president, was in the chair and welcomed the members after the Summer holidays. The musical programme consisted of two vocal solos by Mrs. Holt, who was cordially thanked.

MAINTAINING that all the parties now appealing for the franchises of the Canadian people, the Liberal Party stood alone as offering a tried and proven policy that might be looked to by the electorate to solve the country's economic difficulties, Jack McDowell, Victoria Liberal candidate in the Federal election, presented a neatly-arranged argument when addressing the Liberal Women's Forum, at their meeting yesterday afternoon.

"The real issue in this election is back to the people and collect from them by some form of taxation."

CONSIDER PRODUCER

The first person to consider in all this was the primary producer. Taxation would increase the cost of production, and this would handicap the producer in selling his products and ultimately would result in the loss of markets unless he cut down the cost of production, involving the cutting down of the wages of employees.

The home also would be affected by increased taxation, as it would increase the cost of food, clothing and other commodities, at the same time endangering the bread-winner's position as employee if the producer, in cutting down costs, were forced to cut down the wages or numbers of his employees.

This offering of bribes and similar proposals is the method of political leaders who are merely going to restrict business by such forms of taxation as proposed," Mr. McDowell said. There had been some criticism because Mr. Mackenzie King had not come out with similar promises, but the reason he had not was because he knew that such promises would not work.

LIBERAL POLICY

The Liberal policy was, in short, to remove trade restriction and increase world trade, which eventually would result in reduction of the national debt and the creation of a freer credit in the community. Mr. McDowell dealt briefly with the railroad problem. The C.N.R. was costing the people of Canada a million dollars per week. The C.P.R. stock, which before the restrictions on trade went into effect, was an asset, last year had to secure $60,000,000 credit from the Dominion. Owing to restriction of trade under the present Federal regime, whether the C.N.R. or the C.P.R. were moving goods, he declared.

These were awarded as follows: Alberta—Eric D. Wilson, of Calgary; James M. Mann, Peace River; British Columbia—Thomas Pepper, Silas Price, Lolo Still and Robert Clark; Manitoba—Norman Paulson, Winnipeg; Armand Bourque, St. Boniface; Frances Mary Palmer, Winnipeg; New Brunswick—Donald L. Lang, Toronto; Saskatchewan—Helen M. Jones, Regina.

VISITOR WELCOMED

A distinguished visitor at the meeting of the committee was Mrs. Russell-Brown, the I.O.D.E. representative of London, England. Mrs. Russell-Brown addressed the meeting and brought news of the order's overseas scholars whom she reported as eager to avail themselves of the many opportunities overseas to fit themselves for service in Canada upon their return to this country. She told of the boundless hospitality of the Victoria League to these scholars and of their practical aid to them. She also vividly described the placing of the I.O.D.E. wreath on the Cenotaph in London, on Armistice Day, which wreath—as a tribute to Canadian women—was deposited next following the placing of the wreaths of the Royal Family and the Cabinet ministers, etc.

Guest at Shower

Miss Ruby Cobbett was the guest of honor recently at a shower given by the Misses Janie Griffin, of Ladysmith, and Miss Margaret Laidlaw, Chemainus, at the home of the latter. Four tables of courtly whist were in play, the winner being Miss Anna Teush.

Supper was served in the dining-room, the table being beautifully arranged with a silver basket and pink and mauve asters, and tall pink tapers in pink cellophane candle holders, with place cards of kepple bridesmaids; the one for Miss Cobbett being a miniature kepple bride. Miss Cobbett cut the beautifully decorated bridecake. The guests adjourned to the drawing-room in time to be met by the "Royal Mail coach" in petals of deep red and gold, bearing the gifts of those present. Miss Cobbett, who has been employed at the Victoria Lumber & Mfg. Co. Chemainus, for some years, will leave shortly to be married in Victoria.

The invited guests included: Misses Ivy Vye, Anna Teush, Arsen Perlin, Eileen Powell, McDougal, Clement, Reese, Gladys Wilson, M. Heslip, Enid Fraser, Mesdames Laidlaw, Heslip, Larman, James Phillips, N. Thompson, Vate and J. Thompson.

Malahat Chapter

The Malahat Chapter held its first meeting after the summer recess, on Thursday afternoon, in the S.L.A.A. Hall, with a fair attendance of members. The regent, Mrs. V. H. Stewart-MacLeod, occupied the chair. In the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Hunter read the financial report. A satisfactory account was given of the July fete, and a comprehensive report was read by Mrs. Skrimshire, educational secretary. It was decided to assist the Cowichan Chapter with a small donation in welcoming the children, who will arrive shortly at the Fairbridge Farm School. The prize drawing by the chapter to the Cobble Hill Fair was won by the children of the Solarium. The chapter will celebrate its fifth anniversary at its next meeting on October 10, at Rosedale Inn, and have invited the members of the Shawanigan Lake Women's Institute to a birthday tea on that occasion. Mrs. Stewart-MacLeod, who will leave shortly for a visit of several months in the Old Country, received the good wishes of the members for an enjoyable journey and a safe return. Tea was provided by the members and served by Mrs. Hollings.

The nice old lady smiled at the little girl who had been left in charge of the confectioner's shop. "Don't you sometimes feel tempted to eat one of the cream buns, my dear?" she asked.

"The little girl was quite shocked. 'Of course not. That would be stealing. I only lick them.'"

Jane Dixon Says:

A NAGGING WOMAN IS AN ABOMINATION IN ANY HOME, BUT A NAGGING MAN IS A DOMESTIC PESTILENCE

Dear Jane Dixon: I so need a little encouragement. Can you help me?

Miss Dixon, I've been married seven years and have a darling little girl three years old.

Since the beginning, my married life has been one long stretch of trouble.

My husband seems to enjoy nagging at me continually, mostly over the most impossible things.

For instance—his meals. He will instruct me to have pork for dinner. I prepare it the way I know he likes it, and when he comes home, he will deny ordering pork. He will insist it was beef he told me to have.

You can imagine how all this complicates my household duties, making them infinitely difficult. He doesn't mind nagging me in front of others, and it is so embarrassing to have outsiders peering in at one's family bickering.

Do you think it proper, Miss Dixon, for a father to teach his daughter to deceive and disobey her mother?

My husband seems to think it is pretty cute, because that is what he is teaching our little girl. I couldn't bear it if she should grow to have a disposition like her father.

I'm afraid that as time goes on she will learn to love her father and to scorn me, who would give my life for her.

My husband also uses profane language in her presence, and my little girl is beginning to pick up the ugly words.

Please tell me what you think is best for me to do—"Broken-Hearted Mother."

A DESPICABLE FATHER

Answer: If the picture of your home is as you paint it, I think you understand what is best for you to do.

You know you should remove your child from the influence of a father who, whether for his own delight or for purposes of annoying you, teaches his daughter deception, disobedience and profanity.

There can be no love in the heart of this father for his child, much less a shred of real affection for you.

He is willing to destroy the character of his daughter in order to alienate her affection from you, her mother.

Such a person—he is not deserving of the name man—should be given no consideration whatsoever, nor would he receive it in a court of law.

I would have a definite understanding with my husband that unless he ceased his deprecations on the character of your little girl and conducted himself as a good father should, you must take decisive steps to protect the child.

Don't make an idle threat, however. Prepare yourself to take such steps if they become necessary to the well-being of the daughter for whom you are prepared to give your life, and for whom you are prepared to make the same sacrifice again.

As you know, I am not familiar with the circumstances of your marriage, but your letter indicates your husband's heart was not in the match. Otherwise, why should there have been dissension from the beginning?

If your marriage was a love-dream come true, what happened to turn it into a seven-year nightmare?

If you can go back to the beginning and ferret out what started you on this long journey of misery and disillusionment, you might be able, with patience and wisdom, to work out a remedy.

A nagging woman is an abomination in any home, but a nagging man is a domestic pestilence.

No man nags, derides, discredits a woman he respects.

If he cannot give her love, he at least treats her with courtesy and, if she is the mother of his child, he adds kindness and a willingness to co-operate toward a decent solution of the home problems.

Nanaimo

Mrs. A. C. Bagley, provincial president of the Council of Women, has consented to address the Nanaimo L.C.W. on September 23, to give a report of the recent National convention and a visit she made to Kingston Prison, while she was in the East.

At the regular meeting of the Nanaimo Women's Business and Professional Club, Mrs. H. Hope was presented with a club bag by the members for outstanding service given the club for several years.

Members of the Loyal Orange Lily Benevolent Association, Nanaimo, held one of the first early Autumn teas in the Eagles Hall that drew a large crowd and proved an interesting event. A large sum was raised, which included proceeds of contests, home cooking and a wheel drive in the evening. The hall was artistically decorated with Fall flowers, and a fine musical programme was contributed by leading local talent. Mrs. J. F. Newman and Mrs. F. Vater were accompanied by a list, and Mesdames Joseph Bradshaw, F. Reynolds, H. Boyce, W. A. Jolly Good, Fellow.

Maynard. Community singing and a book contest provided enjoyable entertainment, while Mrs. C. Page delighted the gathering with two solos. Following the awarding of the contest prizes, the self-invited guests sat down with the hostess to a supper which they had provided. As a token of appreciation for her untiring help in the W.A. work, Mrs. Maynard was presented with a beautiful Royal Minton plate. By the president, Mrs. G. Orr, Mrs. Maynard thanked the assembly, after which the evening was brought to a close with the singing of "For She's Well, F. Reynolds, H. Boyce, W. A. Jolly Good, Fellow."

Senator Will Marry Miss Doris Cross

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 13 (AP).—Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, seventy-two, and Miss Doris Cross, twenty-six, formerly his private nurse and a former "beginner" girl, will be married tomorrow afternoon in Washington, D.C., it was announced today.

The announcement was made at the senator's office in Washington and confirmed by Mrs. Nellie Cross, mother of the bride-to-be at her home here.

It will be McAdoo's third wedding and Miss Cross' first.

SURPRISE EXPRESSED

Friends expressed surprise over the announcement, professing to have been unaware of the romance. It apparently began more than three years ago in Santa Barbara, where Miss Cross was a private nurse in Senator McAdoo's home.

Senator McAdoo's first wife was Sarah T. Fleming, whom he married in Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1885. Six children were born to them. Mrs. McAdoo died in 1912.

IN WAR-TIME CABINET

Two years later, when McAdoo had become Secretary of the Treasury in what was to be Woodrow Wilson's war-time Cabinet, he married Eleanor Randolph Wilson, the President's daughter. The ceremony took place May 7, 1914, in the blue room of the White House. Two daughters were born to them. They were divorced in Los Angeles last year.

Langford

Mrs. A. B. Bown and Miss W. Bown, who were the guests of Mrs. A. Cowie, Leith Road, for a few days, have returned to Victoria, where they intend to stay for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Harrison, who have been living at Upper Laford for several months, are now residing at Lake View, Langford Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cottett and family have left their summer home

Mrs. G. Buckley and her daughter have returned to their home on the Millstream Road.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Betteridge, who have been away for the summer months, have returned and are now in residence in Mrs. D. Burnett's bungalow, Langford Lake.

Cowichan Station

By kind invitation of Mrs. E. Norie, the St. Andrew's W.A. Cowichan Station, held a farewell tea for Mrs. C. Moss, O.B.E., who will leave shortly for England, and who has been a member of the branch for twenty-five years. The president, Mrs. E. Musgrave, expressed regret at losing such a valued member, and presented Mrs. Moss with a lovely water color of San Juan Narrows, the work of Miss Palmer, with the love and good wishes of the members for her future in the Old Country. A charming valedictory poem, composed by Mrs. Holden, was read and presented with the picture. Mrs. Moss expressed her gratitude and spoke of her experiences in the branch. Guests of the branch on this occasion were several members who joined with Mrs. Moss years ago. Mrs. W. E. Cockshott, former president, and Miss Humphries, of the Cowichan Health Centre. The tea table was decorated in a color scheme of pink, centred with a bowl of pink roses flanked on either side with four pink candles in silver holders. Tea was poured by Mrs. Averill and Mrs. Wallich.

Sooke

The monthly meeting of the Sooke Branch of the Canadian Legion and Women's Auxiliary to the Legion, was held in Sooke Hall. It was arranged to hold a court whist card party on Friday, September 20. A stall of home cooking and plant and bulb sale will be in charge of Mrs. J. O. McIntosh and auxiliary members. The Legion will hold a supper dance in October, the date to be announced later. A four-piece orchestra will be engaged. To prevent overcrowding a limited number of invitations will be given by members and their wives.

Churches and Their World-Wide Work

Clergy of Many Creeds May Solemnize Marriage

Ministers of many countries and many creeds are licensed to perform the marriage ceremony in this Province, according to the list printed in a recent issue of The British Columbia Gazette.

Under the letter A, for example, are found representatives of the United Church, Church of England, Holiness Movement, Roman Catholic Church, Pentecostal Assembly, Salvation Army and the Northern Baptist Convention.

The second letter of the alphabet is still more prolific in variety. In addition to most of those already mentioned are ministers of the following churches: Evangelical Lutheran, Mennonite Congregation, Regular Baptist, Apostolic Church of the Pentecost, Liberal Catholic Church of the Nazarene, Evangelicalized Latter Day Saints, Seventh Day

Adventists, Jewish Congregation, Baptist Convention, Norwegian Lutheran, Pentecostal Gospel Light-house, Catholic Apostolic and Reformed Episcopal.

The cosmopolitan character of the ministry is suggested in the names drawn from such countries as Italy, Japan, China, Germany, France, Poland and Switzerland, as well as all parts of the Old Land.

As might be expected, the Macs and the Mcs lead the list, having a quota of sixty-two names. The well-known family of Smiths comes next with ten representatives, the Scotts following close with seven, and then the hundreds in all of the clergy are designated by the state to solemnize marriage.

Substance Is Subject On Sunday

"Substance" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The golden text is: "Ye had come to me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance" (Hebrews x, 34).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus rebuked the devil; and he departed out of him; and the child was cured from that very hour" (Matthew xvii, 18).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Stuck to the truth of being in contradiction to the error that life, substance, or intelligence can be in matter. Plead with an honest conviction of truth and a clear perception of the unchanging, unerring, and certain effect of divine Science. Then, if your fidelity is half equal to the truth of your plea, you will heal the sick."

If September 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m., from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m., and from 8:15 to

10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m., from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m., and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight. It might be wise on this day to "let your conscience be your guide," and also to heed any intuitive warnings. Avoid extreme teasing or indulging in practice jokes, as both are liable to cause trouble. It will be good judgment to use discrimination in selecting the form of amusement for the day's entertainment, because it may have a decidedly favorable or unfavorable mental reaction on not only yourself, but whoever is with you. Care should be exercised in the distribution of money, for conditions are likely to be conducive to its being frittered away without realization. Friendly gatherings should bring about a spirit of good fellowship, and prove an excellent channel for interesting news. Married and engaged couples and those seeking companionship should be wise in selecting their recreation this day; they should decide on one they can both enjoy. If a woman, and September 14 is ably will reap a rich reward. You should be very successful in business for you to replace any old-fashioned ideas with modern ones, as your viewpoint will—of be at variance with those with whom you are thrown into contact. Never let fashion or customs enslave you. You are diplomatic, cultured and artistic, vantageously used. The child born on September 14 is likely, by the time it reaches its teens, to unfold an intellectual depth that will give great promise for its future. If a man, and September 14 is your natal day, if you are broad-minded and liberal in your dealings with your fellow man, your chance for success is excellent. Politics, painting, writing, theological or educational work and industrial sales enterprises are among the activities through which your best achievements may be accomplished.

Gorgeous Flowers Shown At Cowichan Fall Fair

High Quality of Entries in All Classes, With Interesting Displays in Arts and Crafts Section of Exhibition

DUNCAN, Sept. 13.—The sixty-seventh Cowichan Fall Fair, which was opened today by Lt.-Col. H. D. McLaughlin, has drawn a very high quality of entries in all classes, and is being well attended in spite of drizzling rain. The flower displays are gorgeous, as the downpour did not begin until the flowers were gathered. Many lovely roses, dahlias, gladioli, and Michaelmas daisies are to be seen in great profusion. The field and vegetable classes have some excellent exhibits, though not as numerous as in other years.

The arts and crafts section is well represented and here there is an interesting display by Lt.-Col. H. D. McLaughlin. The photography section is growing in popularity and besides the very good competitive entries, there are interesting exhibits put in by the Pictorial Photographers of Victoria, and the Y.M.C.A. Camera Club.

The needlecraft this year is of a high standard and the display of hand-made goods is very good. Indian sweaters, on view at one end of the main hall, add an interesting note and the Indian exhibits generally are of a high quality.

High Standard Exhibits At Ladysmith Fall Fair

LADYSMITH, Sept. 13.—Ladysmith annual Fall fair closed yesterday after a successful two-day exhibition. The displays of fruit, vegetables and flowers were heavy and a high standard throughout.

Exhibits in the fine arts and domestic science sections were much lighter this year than was usually the case, but some exceptional work was displayed.

In the school exhibits, in poster, map and manual arts work, the standard was consistently high, and earned commendation from the speakers on the platform. Some fine photographic series were on exhibition. There were several excellent pencil and pen-and-ink sketches, while oils and water colors were well represented.

Two exceptional exhibits were the non-competitive display of J. A. Hartley and the entry of the Diamond District Farmers' Institute.

The fair was officially opened when J. Twynham, president of the Agricultural Society, introduced Mayor W. W. Walker, Rev. C. McDiarmid, and Hugh Savan, M.P.

CREDIT TO CITY

Mayor Walker expressed the city's official pleasure at the success of the exhibition, and congratulated the Agricultural Society. The whole exhibition was a distinct credit to the citizens and the society, and a wonderful indication of the district's potentialities.

Mr. McDiarmid, vice-president of the society, said this exhibition was the best he had ever seen. The displays demonstrated that everyone had brought their best, and the fair compared very favorably with those anywhere, and actually exceeded in quality any other fair held in towns similar to Ladysmith.

Mr. Savage said he had rather disgraced himself upon a former occasion when he presented a hope for the young people who were deprived of the means of work, for there was always the soil around to provide food.

He congratulated everyone connected with the event, especially the Diamond District exhibitors, who were consistent in their support of the local effort.

He felt critical of the apparent lack in the women's sections, and if that was the reason behind the ladies' lack of interest they had the matter in their own hands to set things right. On the whole, everything was fine, and there was abundant reason for the celebrating for the time of harvest festival.

He hoped for bigger and better things next year, and that the community effort would go forward without faltering.

For the occasion were Messrs. Robertson and Clark for fruits and vegetables, T. Gould for flowers, and Mrs. Spencer for women's work and domestic science.

ADA MACKENZIE AND MRS. DAGENAIS REACH FINAL

Jockey Sena Guides Home Five Winners At Local Enclosure

Riding of Popular Young Jockey Is Feature of Day's Galloping in the Mud at Willows Track—Good Card Today

Form players had their ingenuity tested at the mud-covered and sloppy track, as the bangtails galloped true to form on the sixth day of the present fourteen-day racing meeting at the local enclosure. In four of the seven races, favorites came down in front.

Only three times were the favorites beaten in a day of good racing. In the initial sprint, Brown Bonnet, little better than a 3 to 1 shot, defeated Louie Dear, the favorite, while in the sixth race, Eleanor's Choice, a second-choice mount, carried off the lion's share of the purse. Flying Atom, the favorite, was second. In the seventh race, Beaver Boy, picked by many of the punters to take the biggest portion of the purse, finished in fourth place. Nihil, starting at better than 3 to 1, won the race with May Roam, fifth choice mount, getting home in the place slot.

SENA RIDES WELL
The feature of the day was the performance in the saddle of Tommy Sena, promising young jockey, who piloted home five winners in six trips to the starting gate. Sena started his fine riding in the second race, by booting Chief's Lady to the wire. In the third event he piloted Happy Madge to the judges' stand in first place, and made it three in a row by riding Lady Dikem home in front, in the fourth.

Sena was not mounted in the fifth race, but came back in the sixth and scored with Eleanor's Choice, and finished his day of fine riding by bringing down Flying Atom in the final gallop of the day. Despite the heavy rain which fell for most of the day, there was a good crowd of racegoers on hand to see the thoroughbred gallop around the mud-covered track.

GOOD CARD TODAY
With good fields assured for each race, an exceptionally attractive programme has been prepared for today by association officials. Seven races are carded, with the Mayor David Leeming Handicap as the feature attraction.

With many visitors expected today from Seattle and Vancouver, another bumper week-end crowd is anticipated by racing officials. Attendance and betting in this year's meet are still in excess of those of 1934, and those in charge feel confident that the meeting will be the most successful here for many years.

FIRST RACE—Claiming: three-year-olds and up; five and one-half furlongs.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
Eternal Footsteps—More than fifty years ago, January 25, 1884, D. P. Erasmus was killed by lightning as he was working on his farm, now known as Hoogeboom, Natal, South Africa. The spot on which he stood when the bolt from the skies took his life was a sick, clay surface, which hardened immediately by a square of stone markers placed there by Mr. Erasmus' son, David, a silent tribute to a pioneer toiler of the South African soil.

Barney Ross Is Winner Against Ceferino Garcia

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13 (P.)—Barney Ross, welterweight titleholder, proved himself a great champion tonight when he got off the canvas twice to score a ten-round decision over Ceferino Garcia, terrific punching Filipino, in one of the finest battles seen here in many months.

Floored twice for no counts in the opening frame, and staggering around the ring, the bell sounded, Ross came back in sensational fashion to outbox the slugging Filipino during the rest of the bout. Dangerous in every session, Garcia evaded up two of the rounds, the fourth and fifth, but thereafter his wide swings mostly went around the champion's neck or were dodged completely.

The Chicago boy's boxing mastery stood him in good stead after the almost disastrous opening round. After the first bell sounded he danced out confidently, failed to duck the vicious right-handers swung by the hardest-hitting Filipino ever to invade the Mainland.

Morris vs. L. D. Rines and J. H. Richardson (captain).
9:50—H. E. Haynes and S. A. Haynes vs. A. D. Macey and W. F. Macey.

Three-Run Blast Gives New York Victory in Tenth

Trio of Tallies Off Dizzy Dean Decides Wild Game in Favor of Terrymen — Thirty-Nine Hits Belted—Nine Errors Committed—Chicago Whips Dodgers—Tigers Trounce Yanks

NATIONAL LEAGUE
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13 (AP).—A three-run blast against Dizzy Dean in the tenth inning gave the Giants a 13-10 victory over the Cardinals today in the second game of their "crucial" series to even the count at one victory apiece. The triumph put the Giants three and a half games behind St. Louis, which dropped into a virtual tie with the Chicago Cubs.

The Cards retained the lead by four percentage points, 635 to 631, as they have played fewer games than Chicago.
A double by relief pitcher Frank Gabler, with two on base, after a misplay by Leo Durocher had let in one run, clinched the exciting, but poorly played, game. It was the fifth Cardinal error of the game.

Twins Fine Game
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13 (AP).—The superb hurling of Curt Davis, who did not permit an enemy batsman to reach first base until two were out in the fifth, enabled Philadelphia to defeat Pittsburgh, 5-1 today.

BOSTON, Sept. 13 (AP).—The Red Sox belted a quintette of St. Louis moundmen for twenty-five hits today, but were forced to divide a double-header when the Browns staged a four-run rampage in the eighth inning of the second game.

Backed by the heavy slugging of his teammates, who pored out fifteen safeties, Was Ferrell gained his twenty-third win of the season when the Sox captured the opener, 13-4. In the second tilt, Lefty "Rube" Walberg had the situation well in hand until Julius "Moose" Solter's eighth inning triple, which came with two on and started the Browns on the way to their 4-2 nightcap triumph.

Lawson Little and Walter Emery Will Meet in U.S. Final

Former Disposes of Johnny Goodman, 4 and 3, by Strong Finish, After Being All-Square at Twenty-Seventh—Latter Eliminates Joseph Lynch by Same Margin—Final Set Today

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP).—William Lawson Little, Jr., blasted his way into the final round of the United States amateur golf championship today by shaking off the threatening jinx of Friday 13 and simultaneously crushing the challenge of his rival and roommate, Omaha's Johnny Goodman.

Soaring to shot-making heights under the severest pressure he has felt all week, all square after twenty-seven holes of his semi-final match, Little delivered a counter attack that flattened Goodman and left the onlookers pop-eyed.

The defending champion shot birdies on five of the last eight holes, capping the climax with a fifty-foot curling putt on the thirty-third green and eliminated Goodman by 4 and 3.

Tomorrow, in the thirty-six-hole final, Little will fight it out with a twenty-three-year-old University of Oklahoma law student, tall Walter Emery, who handled the final obstacle by beating Joseph P. Lynch, partly Bostonian and 1935 Georgetown golf champion, by 4 and 3.

LITTLE FAVORED
Thus the two semi-final matches ended at the same spot on the heavily-wooded Country Club, of Cleveland, but the contrast in the two finishes was such as to make Little a prohibitive favorite to whip the Oklahoma in the title match. Up to today, Emery's performances were such that his followers had no hesitation in matching his scoring feats with those of the champion.

Today the picture changed. Perhaps there was not so much to inspire Emery, fighting his way onward in the first national title tournament for which he has qualified. Nevertheless, the rangy boy from the oil country was staggering a bit at the end, finishing four over par for the day's double round, while Little was coming down the stretch like a man-of-war to post a card for thirty-three holes that was six under par.

Today was the thirtieth consecutive triumph for the Californian in two years of amateur championship play in Great Britain and the United States. Carried only once to an extra hole over that stretch, he has simply overpowered one opponent after another.

FLIGHT. . . by W. D. TIPTON and J. H. MASON

THE EXHAUST VALVE
IS THE HARDEST WORKED PART OF AN AIRCRAFT ENGINE. IT MUST WITHSTAND 42 MILLION TRIP HAMMER BLOWS BETWEEN OVERHAULS, AND STILL REMAIN GAS TIGHT AGAINST ITS SEAT.

THE MODERN VALVE IS OF COMPOSITE CONSTRUCTION, USING STELLITE FACES FOR HARDNESS, AUSTENITIC STEEL STEMS FOR GOOD WEARING QUALITIES, AND HIGH CARBON STEEL TIPS FOR CONTACT WITH TAPPETS.

HEAT TRANSFERRED TO VALVE STEM WHEN MELTED SODIUM IS TAPED TO TOP OF VALVE BY IMPACT OF CLOSING.

THE HOLLOW STEM IS FILLED WITH METALLIC SODIUM WHICH TRANSFERS HEAT FROM THE VALVE HEAD TO THE GUIDE.

THE "top overhaul" of a few years ago, this operation had to be performed after 200 hours of service. Today, with the latest type engines, the exhaust valve will last 350 hours without regrounding, and at this point the engine is given a complete overhaul, whereas it formerly got its complete or major overhaul after 400 hours of service, with one-top overhaul intervening.

Thus, modern research, which has been very intensively concentrated on the exhaust valve, has eliminated one expensive operation in aircraft engine maintenance, and at the same time has made the engine ground and the piston rings reground. This operation is known as

TIME OUT OF MIND

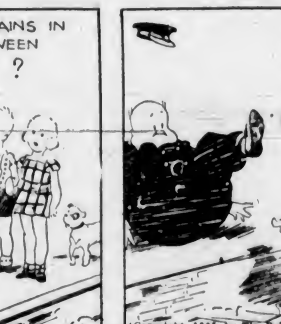

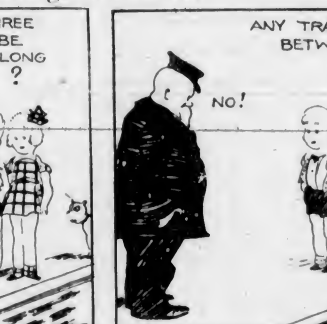

"Oh, that has been done time out of mind" we will say of something that has been done long ago and perhaps on numerous occasions.

The expression seems to be felicitous and has been in common use for many hundreds of years.

The earliest well-known recorded use of the expression is in Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, Act I, Scene IV.

Mercutio is telling Romeo of a dream. His description is a pretty fantasy in which, referring to the

STORMY LOVE

A YOUNG NAVY MAN'S ROMANCE

CHAPTER XLII

In the good-sized room that was dominated by the great cobbles stone fireplace of the retreat to which Val had brought Lia, there were built-in bookshelves, with bright spreads of red and white checked gingham. A crude Dutch dresser bore gaily flowered china and there were a big couch, table, two arm chairs and some straight chairs that Towner proudly informed them had all been constructed on the spot. Curtains and the cushions of couch and chairs were covered with the cheery checks. The whole place was comfortable and, considering the difficulties of packing-in, even luxurious.

The small kitchenette bore a wooden sink, a assemblage camp stove and many shelves to be stocked with provisions. As the men began swiftly to unload and stow supplies Towner told Van: "We'll work fast because I'd just as soon make our overnight camp here as anywhere else. We'll go down tomorrow, even though the road ain't in very good shape this early."

He pointed out the little stone cooler set, by a brook that gurgled pleasantly over whitened stones a few steps from the kitchen door; he showed the younger man where he placed bacon, ham and the small amount of fresh meat. "You'll catch plenty of fish to fill in," he said. "An' there's canned stuff to give variety. Here's tinned milk an' butter in the cooler. The cartons of cigarettes an' pipe tobacco's on the shelf in the livin' room. Matches in the chest. Remember what I told you, now. The woods is pretty dry even this early, so watch-all fire. Bedding you'll find in them cedar-lined drawers, an' the portable victrola's there, too. Plenty of cordwood stacked on the other side of the cabin. Piles of newspapers in here for startin' the fire. The drinkin' water's pure as a lily. There's a canoe under the house. The water off the float's about four feet deep, but there ain't no bottom to the middle of the lake, so don't go tipplin' over out there 'less you're crack swimmers."

Lia huddled in a chair and looked straight before her. But called her attention to the few books and a stack of magazines on a shelf but she did not answer. Already a little mountain chill crept in with the declining sun and the boy lighted the fire on the stone hearth and in the cook stove. When he fetched two bear skins from the cedar closet and threw them on the floor, Lia stared down at these and Val saw her put a hand to her throat and shiver.

The sun's rays lay against the leaves when the young officer went out to the porch to call good-bye to the men. His spirits were at a low ebb when Towner called back, "Be seen't you again in about two weeks? Watch out for fire. An' have a good time—"

Just before they disappeared on the trail Lia ran out to the porch. "Don't let them go!" she pleaded. "I'm afraid I have the feeling some thing terrible is going to happen if we stay! If it does, it is your fault. Call them back. You haven't the right to keep me in this place."

He tried to quiet her, to reason with her, but she thrust her fingers into her ears and would not hear him. Half beside herself, she cried, "I warn you I'll do anything to get away. I'll go the moment you aren't watching—"

"Oh, no you won't," he said shortly. "It's sixteen miles over a tough trail that only a trained woodsman could follow. You are afraid of the timber, let alone the bear and cougar that might be about. So don't try any such foolishness."

Defeated, she went back and threw herself across the couch, then lay shaken with sobs. Feeling as if his harried nerves would snap with the strain, Val stood helplessly regarding her. Presently, he strode across the room, opened his suitcase and took out the carefully wrapped bottles of Scotch. As he fetched a tin cup and corkscrew from the kitchen his eyes were eager. A drink would be welcome!

He drank the first two fingers neat, then poured himself a second generous measure. But as he lifted the glass to his lips he realized suddenly that Lia had raised herself and watched him with cold contempt in her alien black eyes. He felt a slow flush well up into his face. She had never seemed to mind his having a drink before. Not that she had spoken now. But it was the way she looked at him that was disconcerting. He wanted to put the drink down, wanted to show her it meant nothing to him. He tried it, but with no success. Finally he avoided her cold stare and took a deep swallow. How good it tasted! It bucked him to feel the warming liquid that would shortly banish his weariness and low spirits.

"Better have a spot," he said to Lia. "You must be very tired." But she only gave him a haughty little shake of the head and threw herself back into the pillows again.

After his second drink he went out to fetch fresh logs and built a roaring fire. The evening chill was penetrating, but he paused on the porch to listen to the faint rustle of the leaves, the gurgle of the brook, the lap of tiny ripples against the lake shore. No other sounds broke the heavy silence.

When he re-entered the cabin the whisky had warmed and heartened him. In the kitchen he began to open cans and boxes. After a busy interval he set the table with the flowered china and brought steaming coffee, buttered toast and hot chicken a la King from a can. But when he proudly called Lia, she did not answer. He crossed to the couch only to find that she had fallen into the deep sleep of exhaustion and died there, a weary, travel-stained little figure, she looked so small and defenceless he knew a swift, blinding shame.

Perhaps he had been foolhardy to cut them off from civilization like this. What if some unforeseen thing should happen as she feared? What if either of them should fall sick or be hurt? Towner had warned him there were bear and cougar about and there was always the danger of fire in these heavily timbered sections.

As he fetched linen and blankets from the shelves his mind grew momentarily more disquieted. When he had made up Lia's bunk he carried her across and removed her tweed coat and riding boots; after that he produced nightdress and robe and slipped from her bag. She only closed enough to step out of her underthings and into her gown.

After he had covered her well and moved the lamp, he returned to the supper he had prepared, but now it was cold and though he drank the coffee his throat seemed to constrict at even the thought of food. He could not rid himself of the growing fear that some misfortune might overtake them.

Yet it was not too late to change his mind. Towner and Bud were encamped for the night only five miles from here; those last miles were fairly well marked; and if he started now with the flashlight he could fetch them to guide the Presons away from this lonely place and back to the world again.

Undecided, he extinguished the lamp and sank down in the firelight to smoke innumerable cigarettes. He had opened a window and the night air grew piercing, but still he hunched there before the dying embers. Once Lia moaned in her sleep and he winced. But after a long interval he straightened and struck the matches to light a cigarette. He clutched the fat against his other palm. No matter what came of it, he was determined to carry out this last desperate duty for a better understanding between them.

A walling cry split the night and he started upright. His heart thudded sickeningly and it took a moment to get hold of himself. It was only the plaint of a loon on the lake, but for a space Lia had shot his compass, his stood listening and was relieved that the eerie sound had not wakened Lia. Later when he stumbled across to his bunk and dropped down to sleep the fire was almost dead. And on the table one of the bottles of Scotch was two-thirds empty.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

CAUSES AND TREATMENT OF ACNE OR PIMPLES

There is no subject that seems to interest so many readers as does acne or pimples. When we remember that they come at the age of 14 to 16 and often last till the victim is 30 years of age it is but natural that anything that will prevent or cure this condition is eagerly sought.

I have spoken before about the use of waterol. The treatment is: Start with ten drops each day in water and increase the dose gradually until at the end of two weeks 20 drops are being taken daily. Continue to take 20 drops daily for two more weeks. This "four weeks" treatment was found to be very successful in a number of university students. Cutting down on fried and starchy foods is another method of preventing pimples.

It would seem that as boys and girls enter into manhood and womanhood, with the natural gland changes that occur at this time, certain foods do not seem to be handled by the digestive system as completely as they should be, with the result that the blood becomes overloaded with these "incomplete" products which cause pimples.

Fat foods cause much skin irritation including pimples and boils. The foods rich in fats are: butter, cream, fat meat, yolks of eggs, nuts, mackerel, herring, salmon, sardines, goose, pork, cheese, chocolate, and cocoa.

Fats act in two ways to cause pimples, boils and sometimes eczema. First, large amounts of fat in the foods slow down the movement of digestion and interfere with the digestion of the other foods so that putrefaction, going bad of undigested food may take place in the intestines. Second, if great amounts of fat are eaten the body may not be able to handle it all at once and products of this incomplete oxidation (burning up of fat) may accumulate in the blood and tissues. These substances are in the blood and are carried to the skin and cause irritation.

Thus, the treatment of acne or pimples consists in cutting down on fats, rich desserts, greasy and fried foods; keeping the intestine regular, and the use of the various remedies used by skin specialists. Waterol, internally, cleanses the skin and the use of the X-ray in competent hands.
